Short Answer

1. Do you believe the government should be able to punish citizens for breaking ex post facto laws? Explain your reasoning and defend your answer.

Ans: Varies. Students may first define ex post facto laws. They must analyze the implications of ex post facto laws, perhaps by providing the advantages and disadvantages of allowing prosecution of individuals who break these laws.

Learning Objective: 2-2: One purpose of statutory clarity is to ensure that individuals know what is prohibited by the criminal law.

Cognitive Domain: Analysis

Answer Location: Ex Post Facto Laws

Difficulty Level: Hard

2. Explain the difference between hate speech and hate crimes. To defend your answer, provide examples from media portrayals, personal experiences, or situations you may have witnessed. What are some ways society can combat hate speech and hate crimes?

Ans: Varies. Students must thoroughly define hate speech and hate crime and discuss each of their significance through given examples by providing specifics such as who committed the acts and who it was directed against. Students must also discuss ways of combating hate speech and hate crimes through constructive means such as legislative actions, media campaigns, local projects, and so on.

Learning Objective: 2-5: The U.S. Constitution explicitly provides for a right to privacy.

Cognitive Domain: Analysis

Answer Location: Hate Speech

Difficulty Level: Hard

3. What are the four functions that are central to democracy performed by freedom of expression under the First Amendment as identified by Thomas I. Emerson?

Ans: Freedom of expression contributes to individual self-fulfillment by encouraging individuals to express their ideas and creativity, ensures a vigorous “marketplace of ideas,” promotes social stability, and ensures that there is a steady stream of innovative ideas and enables the government to identify and address newly arising issues.

Students may briefly discuss each of the functions or provide examples.

Learning Objective: 2-5: The U.S. Constitution explicitly provides for a right to privacy.

Cognitive Domain: Application

Answer Location: Freedom of Speech

Difficulty Level: Medium

4. What is the rule of legality?

Ans: A strong answer will define the rule of legality as the first principle of American criminal law and jurisprudence and is reflected in two constitutional principles: Bills of attainder and ex post facto laws and the constitutional requirement for statutory clarity. Students must briefly describe each of these concepts and may provide examples.

Learning Objective: 2-1: Bills of attainder prohibit punishing an individual for an act that was not a crime at the time it was committed.

Cognitive Domain: Comprehension

Answer Location: Rule of Legality

Difficulty Level: Easy

5. What are the common characteristics of speech that are absent from First Amendment protection?

Ans: A strong answer will discuss the following: the expressions lack social value, directly cause social harm or injury, and are narrowly defined in order to avoid discouraging and deterring individuals from engaging in free and open debate.

Learning Objective: 2-5: The U.S. Constitution explicitly provides for a right to privacy.

Cognitive Domain: Analysis

Answer Location: Freedom of Speech

Difficulty Level: Medium

6. What main categories of speech are not protected by the First Amendment?

Ans: A strong answer will identify the following: fighting words, incitement to violent action, threat (true threats), obscenity, and libel. Students may briefly describe each of these categories.

Learning Objective: 2-5: The U.S. Constitution explicitly provides for a right to privacy.

Cognitive Domain: Application

Answer Location: Freedom of Speech

Difficulty Level: Easy

7. Why does the right to privacy lack a clear meaning?

Ans: The right to privacy lacks a clear meaning because it is not explicitly mentioned in the U.S. Constitution, but it is argued that privacy is implied. There are also difficulties in determining just how much privacy an individual is entitled to especially when acts are committed within the privacy of the home.

Learning Objective: 2-6: The Second Amendment right to bear arms does not protect individuals' right to keep firearms outside the home.

Cognitive Domain: Analysis

Answer Location: The Constitutional Right to Privacy

Difficulty Level: Hard

8. What does due process require?

Ans: A strong answer will discuss the following:

Due process requires that criminal statutes should be drafted in a clear and understandable fashion.

Due process requires that individuals receive notice of criminal conduct.

Due process requires that the police, prosecutors, judges, and jurors are provided with a reasonably clear statement of prohibited behavior so as to ensure uniform and nondiscriminatory enforcement of the law.

Learning Objective: 2-3: Laws that distinguish between individuals based on age, race, or gender in most instances are held to be constitutional by courts.

Cognitive Domain: Comprehension

Answer Location: Statutory Clarity

Difficulty Level: Easy

9. What are the categories of ex post facto laws as established in Calder v. Bull?

Ans: A strong answer will identify the following:

Every law that makes an action, done before the passing of the law, and was innocent when done, criminal; and punishes such action.

Every law that aggravates a crime, or makes it greater than it was, when committed.

Every law that changes the punishment, and inflicts a greater punishment, than the law annexed to the crime, when committed.

Every law that alters the legal rules of evidence, and receives less, or different, testimony, than the law required at the time of the commission of the offense, in order to convict the offender.

Learning Objective: 2-2: One purpose of statutory clarity is to ensure that individuals know what is prohibited by the criminal law.

Cognitive Domain: Application

Answer Location: Ex Post Facto Laws

Difficulty Level: Easy

10. Does the right to privacy lack a clear meaning and why or why not?

Ans: The right to privacy lacks a clear meaning because it is not explicitly mentioned in the U.S. Constitution, but it is argued that privacy is implied. There are also difficulties in determining just how much privacy an individual is entitled to especially when acts are committed within the privacy of the home.

Learning Objective: 2-6: The Second Amendment right to bear arms does not protect individuals' right to keep firearms outside the home.

Essay

1. Define and distinguish the three types of scrutiny under the Equal Protection Clause.

Ans: (1) Rational basis test: the minimum level of scrutiny which will apply to most laws.

(2) Intermediate scrutiny: the middle level of scrutiny has applied to classifications based on gender. (3) Strict scrutiny: the highest level of scrutiny has been applied to classifications based on race and national origin. Although a law may appear neutral, it may nonetheless be deemed to constitute an unconstitutional classification.

Learning Objective: 2-4: The courts do not recognize any limitations on expression under the First Amendment.

2. What are the three main differences between a bill of attainder and ex post facto laws?

Ans: (1) A bill of attainder punishes a specific individual or specific individuals. An ex post facto law criminalizes an act that was legal at the time the act was committed. (2) A bill of attainder is not limited to criminal punishment and may involve any disadvantage imposed on an individual; ex post facto laws are limited to criminal punishment. (3) A bill of attainder imposes punishment on an individual without trial. An ex post facto law is enforced in a criminal trial.

Learning Objective: 2-2: One purpose of statutory clarity is to ensure that individuals know what is prohibited by the criminal law.

3. What are the four functions central to democracy performed by freedom of expression under the First Amendment as identified by Thomas I. Emerson?

Ans: Freedom of expression contributes to individual self-fulfillment by encouraging individuals to express their ideas and creativity, ensures a vigorous “marketplace of ideas,” promotes social stability, and ensures that there is a steady stream of innovative ideas and enables the government to identify and address newly arising issues.

Learning Objective: 2-5: The U.S. Constitution explicitly provides for a right to privacy.

Cognitive Domain: Knowledge

Answer Location: Freedom of Speech

Difficulty Level: Easy

4. What does due process require with respect to criminal law? Why is due process important?

Ans: Due process requires that criminal statutes should be drafted in a clear and understandable fashion. Statutes that fail to meet this standard are considered unconstitutional. Due process requires that individuals receive notice of criminal conduct and that the police, prosecutors, judges, and jurors are provided with a reasonably clear statement of prohibited behavior so as to ensure uniform and nondiscriminatory enforcement of the law. Due process protections in this context are important because they ensure that individuals are not punished for innocent conduct or conduct that they could not reasonably know was illegal.

Learning Objective: 2-3: Laws that distinguish between individuals based on age, race, or gender in most instances are held to be constitutional by courts.

Cognitive Domain: Application

Answer Location: Statutory Clarity
