

- 20. The Max-Min Theorem says that a continuous function defined on a closed, finite interval must have maximum and minimum values. It does not say that other functions cannot have such values. The Heaviside function is not continuous on $[-1, 1]$ (because it is discontinuous at $x = 0$), but it still has maximum and minimum values. Do not confuse a theorem with its converse.