Problemset   Essay Questions

Introductory Text

Question 1	Why was the fur trade a significant factor in colonial wars between Great Britain and France?
Type: Essay	Hint: The Colonies: Strategic Contours
	Feedback:

Question 2	How did the geography of North America factor into the conduct of the various wars for empire?
Type: Essay	Hint: The Colonies: Strategic Contours
	Feedback:

Question 3	What factors served to widen King Williams' War into a European conflict?
Type: Essay	Hint: King William's War
	Feedback:

Question 4	What factors influenced Frontenac to launch a war of raids on the British colonies in North America? Were the tactics he adopted effective? Why or why not? Were they an appropriate response to the overall strategic situation of New France?
Type: Essay
	Hint: King William's War
	Feedback:

Question 5	Why was the use of Native American allies by both sides in the colonial wars inherently flawed?
Type: Essay	Hint: King William's War
	Feedback:

Question 6	What was the French objective in North America during Queen Anne's War? How did France seek to accomplish this objective?
Type: Essay	Hint: Queen Anne's War
	Feedback:

Question 7	How did native allies affect the strategy used by both sides in Queen Anne's War?
Type: Essay	Hint: Queen Anne's War
	Feedback:

Question 8	What strategic and geographic benefits did the British colonies receive from the Peace of Utrecht? In what ways did the peace fall short of meeting the colonists' goals?
Type: Essay

Hint: Queen Anne's War

Feedback:

Question 9   How were the strategic objectives of Britain and France similar in King
                 George's War to those of previous imperial wars in North America?
Type: Hint: King George's War
Essay
                 Feedback:

Question 10   What was the French strategic goal in North America? Was there any point in the Great War for Empire when their goals seemed achievable?
Type: If so, when and why?
Essay
                 Hint: The Great War for Empire

                 Feedback: