

IDENTIFYING AND COMPARING INTERDISCIPLINARY FEATURES OF DEVELOPMENTAL THEORIES

| Theory                                                 | Biology | Philosophy | Sociology | Anthropology | History | Other                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|--------------------------------------------------------|---------|------------|-----------|--------------|---------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Lerner's Developmental Contextualism                   |         |            |           |              |         | https://sellidocx.com/products/test-bank-developmenta-science-an-advanced-textbook-7e-bornstein |
| Baltes' Life-Span Developmental Theory                 |         |            |           |              |         |                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Jochen Brandtstädter's Action Theories                 |         |            |           |              |         |                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Elder's Life Course Theory                             |         |            |           |              |         |                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Bronfenbrenner's Bioecological Theory                  |         |            |           |              |         |                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Thelen & Smith's Dynamic Systems Theory                |         |            |           |              |         |                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Magnusson's Holistic Person-Context Interaction Theory |         |            |           |              |         |                                                                                                                                                                                                               |