Synergy has noticed that a competitor is doing well and is steadily gaining a large market share. The marketers at Synergy want to counter the competitor immediately by increasing the sales of its bulbs. What quick step can Synergy take to stimulate the sales of its products?
  - a. Change the pricing strategy
  - b. Adopt new production techniques
  - c. Enter into new supplier contracts
  - d. Adopt a divesting strategy

ANSWER:

RATIONALE: Synergy Corp. can vary its pricing strategy to immediately stimulate its sales. Price is an important

72. In the context of marketing mix, promotion includes:

a. public relations activities.

b. pricing strategies.

c. after-purchase service.

d. storage and transportation of finished products.

ANSWER: a

RATIONALE: Promotion includes advertising, public relations, sales promotion, and personal selling. Promotion's role in the marketing mix is to bring about mutually satisfying exchanges with target markets by informing, educating, persuading, and reminding them of the benefits of an organization or a product.

c. a company manufactures products which are similar to those of its competitors.

d. an established firm focuses solely on developing a low-price competitive advantage.

ANSWER: a

RATIONALE: The notion of competitive advantage means that a successful firm will stake out a position unique in some manner from its rivals. Imitation by competitors indicates a lack of competitive advantage and almost ensures mediocre performance. See 2-6: Competitive Advantage

103. Discuss product strategies in the context of a marketing mix.

ANSWER: Of the four Ps, a marketing mix typically starts with the product. The heart of a marketing mix, the starting point, is the product offering and product strategy. It is hard to design a place strategy, decide on a promotion campaign, or set a price without knowing the product to be marketed. The product includes not only the physical unit, but also its package, warranty, after-sale service, brand name, company image, value, and many other factors.

104. Discuss how strategic planning can be made effective.

ANSWER: Effective strategic planning requires continual attention, creativity, and management commitment.

Strategic planning should not be an annual exercise in which, managers go through the motions and forget about strategic planning until the next year. It should be an ongoing process because the environment is continually changing and the firm's resources and capabilities are continually evolving. Sound strategic planning is based on creativity. Managers should challenge assumptions about the firm and the environment and establish new strategies.

107. Discuss the factors that make marketing objectives effective.

ANSWER:

A marketing objective is a statement of what is to be accomplished through marketing activities. To be useful, stated objectives should be:Realistic: Managers should develop objectives that have a chance of being met. For example, it may be unrealistic for start-up firms or new products to command dominant market share, given other competitors in the marketplace.Measurable: Managers need to be able to quantitatively measure whether or not an objective has been met. For example, it would be difficult to determine success for an objective that states, "To increase sales of cat food." If the company sells one percent more cat food, does that mean the objective was met? Instead, a specific number should be stated, "To increase sales of Purina brand cat food from $300 million to $345 million."Time specific: By what time should the objective be met? "To increase sales of Purina brand cat food between January 1, 2014, and December 31, 2014."Compared to a benchmark: If the objective is to increase sales by 15 percent, it is important to know the baseline against which the objective will be measured. Will it be current sales? Last year's sales? For example, "To increase sales of Purina brand cat food by 15 percent over 2012 sales of $300 million."

ANSWER: The term marketing mix refers to a unique blend of product, place (distribution), promotion, and pricing strategies (often referred to as the four Ps) designed to produce mutually satisfying exchanges with a target market. The marketing manager can control each component of the marketing mix, but the strategies for all four components must be blended to achieve optimal results.

109. Discuss the general strategies for selecting target markets.

ANSWER: Target markets can be selected by appealing to the entire market with one marketing mix, concentrating on one segment, or appealing to multiple market segments using multiple marketing mixes. Target markets could be eighteen- to twenty-five-year-old females who are interested in fashion (Vogue magazine), people concerned about sugar and calories in their soft drinks (Diet Pepsi), or parents who do not have time to potty train their children (Booty Camp classes where kids are potty trained). Any market segment that is targeted must be fully described. Demographics, psychographics, and buyer

110. Discuss promotion strategies in the context of a marketing mix.

ANSWER: Promotion includes advertising, public relations, sales promotion, and personal selling. Promotion's role in the marketing mix is to bring about mutually satisfying exchanges with target markets by informing, educating, persuading, and reminding them of the benefits of an organization or a product. A good promotion strategy, like using a beloved cartoon character such as Sponge-Bob Square Pants to sell gummy snacks, can dramatically increase sales. Each element of this P—promotion—is coordinated and managed with the others to create a promotional blend or mix.

111. Discuss the diversification strategy.

ANSWER: Diversification is a strategy of increasing sales by introducing new products into new markets. For example, UGG, a popular footwear brand known for its casual boots, has introduced an upscale men's footwear collection. The shoes are inspired by rock'n'roll legends such as Jimi Hendrix and Jim Morrison, and are meant to appeal to new customers.
