MULTIPLE CHOICE

- 1. All of the following are types of personal selling jobs EXCEPT
 - a. order-getters.
 - b. order-takers.
 - c. missionary salespeople.
 - d. complementary salespeople.
 - e. merchandisers.

ANS: D REF: pg. 19

- 2. Salespeople who focus on gaining new customers are sometimes referred to as
 - a. hunters.
 - b. farmers.
 - c. missionary salespeople.
 - d. detailers.
 - e. merchandisers.

ANS: A REF: pg. 19

- 3. Salespeople who focus on gaining new customers are sometimes referred to as
 - a. order-takers
 - b. missionary salespeople
 - c. detailers
 - d. merchandisers
 - e. pioneers

ANS: E REF: pg. 19

- 4. Salespeople who focus on gaining new customers are sometimes referred to as
 - a. farmers
 - b. order-takers
 - c. missionary salespeople
 - d. order-getters
 - e. merchandisers

ANS: D REF: pg. 19

- 5. New customers may be turned over to account-servicing salespeople referred to as
 - a. order-getters.
 - b. order-takers.
 - c. pioneers.
 - d. hunters.
 - e. tacticians.

ANS: B REF: pg. 19

- 6. New customers may be turned over to account servicing salespeople referred to as
 - a. hunters
 - b. merchandisers
 - c. missionary salespeople
 - d. pioneers

	ANS: E REF: pg. 19
7.	The generation of new business for the selling firm is associated with which type of salespeople? a. Order-takers and cold canvassers b. Order-getters and order-takers c. Pioneers and franchisers d. Order-getters and pioneers e. Missionaries and detail salespeople
	ANS: D REF: pg. 19
8.	In this selling position, the salesperson, sometimes referred to as a pioneer, is responsible for a. deciding which new territories to enter. b. handling existing customer accounts. c. answering routine customer inquiries. d. discovering which products should be dropped. e. adding new customers.
	ANS: E REF: pg. 19
9.	The generation of new business for the selling firm is associated with which type of salespeople? a. Order-takers and cold canvassers b. Order-getters and order takers c. Pioneers and franchisers d. Order getters and pioneers e. Missionaries and detail salespeople
	ANS: D REF: pg.19
10.	A (n) is a salesperson who provides physicians, nurses, and other medical professionals with pertinent information about drugs to support the overall sales effort. a. hunter b. pioneer c. order-taker d. detailer e. merchandiser
	ANS: D REF: pg. 19
11.	are salespeople who support the sales effort by providing information and performing other supplemental services. a. Hunters b. Pioneers c. Order-takers d. Order-getters e. Missionary salespeople
	ANS: E REF: pg. 19
12.	A (n) is a salesperson who supports the overall sales effort by "spreading the gospel" at the grassroots level. a. hunter b. pioneer c. order-taker

e. farmers

	d. missionary sale. merchandiser	esperson
	ANS: D	REF:	pg. 19
13.		ormed about espeople. y salespeo
	ANS: E	REF:	pg. 19
14.	Which of the followa. Financial cont b. Change agent c. Product agent d. Communication e. Customer value.	ributor ons agent	ot one of the four key roles expected of salespeople?
	ANS: C	REF:	pg. 20
15.	As a. financial contrib. product manage c. change agents d. communication e. customer value.	ributors gers ns agents	ople assume a key role in revenue production for their firms.
	ANS: A	REF:	pg. 20
16.	Assoon as reasonably a. financial contr b. economic ager c. change agents d. communicatio e. customer value	possible. ributors nts ns agents
	ANS: C	REF:	pg. 20
17.	a. serve as a comb. provide product.c. report back tod. report back to	munication of and matcheir complete their complete	ations agent, salespeople do all of the following EXCEPT ons link between customers and their employers. Arketplace information to customers. Apany on competitive activity. Apany on buyer preferences and ideas for new products. And help customers reach buying decisions.
	ANS: E	REF:	pg. 20
18.	a. serve as a comb. provide production	munication of and ma	describes what salespeople do in their role as a customer value agent? ons link between customers and their employers. rketplace information to customers. apany on competitive activity.

- d. help create, communicate, deliver, and continually increase customer value.
- e. stimulate sales cycles and help customers reach buying decisions.

ANS: D REF: pg. 20

- 19. Salespeople can add to or detract from customer value depending on criteria such as
 - a. customer and market knowledge.
 - b. efficiency.
 - c. strategic alignment.
 - d. trustworthiness.
 - e. all of the above.

ANS: E

REF: pg. 21

- 20. According to the trust-based relationship selling process framework, "enhancing customer commitment" is a part of which component of the framework?
 - a. Selling foundations
 - b. Selling strategy based on customer needs and value
 - c. Initiating customer relationships
 - d. Developing customer relationships
 - e. Enhancing customer relationships

ANS: D

REF: pg. 22

- 21. According to the trust-based relationship selling process framework, "discovering prospect's needs" is a part of which component of the framework?
 - a. Selling foundations
 - b. Selling strategy based on customer needs and value
 - c. Initiating customer relationships
 - d. Developing customer relationships
 - e. Enhancing customer relationships

ANS: C

REF: pg. 22

- 22. According to the trust-based relationship selling process framework, "assessing value and relationship performance" is a part of which component of the framework?
 - a. Selling foundations
 - b. Selling strategy based on customer needs and value
 - c. Initiating customer relationships
 - d. Developing customer relationships
 - e. Enhancing customer relationships

ANS: E

REF: pg. 22

- 23. According to the trust-based relationship selling process framework, "activating the buying process" is a part of which component of the framework?
 - a. Selling foundations
 - b. Selling strategy based on customer needs and value
 - c. Initiating customer relationships
 - d. Developing customer relationships
 - e. Enhancing customer relationships

ANS: C

REF: pg. 22

- 24. Which of the following is not one of the characteristics of trust-based relationship selling?
 - a. Seeks to maximize outcomes of individual transactions.
 - b. Focuses on customer needs.
 - c. Seeks to earn customer trust.
 - d. Relies on questioning and listening to establish dialogue with customers.
 - e. Involves two-way collaborative communication between buyers and sellers.

ANS: A REF: pg. 22

- 25. All of the following were mentioned in the text as skills important in the sales process EXCEPT
 - a. listening.
 - b. writing.
 - c. questioning.
 - d. sales dialogue.
 - e. sales presentation.

ANS: B REF: pg. 23

- 26. Which of the following is not one of the steps of the ADAPT questioning methodology?
 - a. Assess the buyer's situation.
 - b. Discover the buyer's needs.
 - c. Activate the buying process.
 - d. Project the impact of solving a problem or realizing an opportunity.
 - e. Transition to the close.

ANS: E REF: pg. 23

- 27. Key presentation skills include all of the following EXCEPT
 - a. explaining the features and benefits of the product.
 - b. demonstrating the product.
 - c. producing additional information to reinforce claims made.
 - d. using audiovisual sales aides.
 - e. coordinating activities within the selling firm to deliver value to the customer.

ANS: E REF: pg. 23

- 28. Which of the following is not considered a common sales dialogue?
 - a. Assessing the prospective customer's situation and buying processes.
 - b. Speaking with competitors about potential customers.
 - c. Confirming the prospective customer's strategic priorities.
 - d. Negotiating an agreement to do business.
 - e. Building customer value by providing additional opportunities.

ANS: B REF: pg. 23

- 29. Which of the following is considered a common sales dialogue?
 - a. Assessing the prospective customer's situation and buying processes.
 - b. Building customer value by providing additional opportunities.
 - c. Confirming the prospective customer's strategic priorities.
 - d. Negotiating an agreement to do business.
 - e. All of the above are common sales dialogue?

ANS: E REF: pg. 23

30. Salespeople who are customer oriented, honest, dependable, competent, and compatible are in a good position to establish

- a. rapport. b. trust. c. commitment.
- d. customer feedback.
- e. source credibility.

ANS: B REF: pg. 23

- 31. To be successful at trust building, research indicates that salespeople should demonstrate all of the following characteristics EXCEPT
 - a. salesperson orientation.
 - b. competence.
 - c. dependability.
 - d. honesty.
 - e. compatibility.

ANS: A REF: pg. 24

- 32. According to H.R. Chally findings, customers appreciate salespeople who
 - a. are personally accountable for the customer's desired results.
 - b. understand the customer's business.
 - c. will be a business consultant who thinks beyond the current transaction.
 - d. will solve customer problems.
 - e. do all of the above.

ANS: E REF: pg. 24

- 33. involves doing what you say you will do.
 - a. Competence
 - b. Dependability
 - c. Candor
 - d. Customer comparability
 - e. Customer orientation

ANS: B REF: pg. 24

- 34. Which of the following is not one of the personal selling approaches outlined in the text?
 - a. Stimulus-response
 - b. Needs satisfaction
 - c. Contingency selling
 - d. Mental states
 - e. Problem-solving

ANS: C REF: pg. 24

- 35. According to the text, when salespeople alter their sales messages and behavior during a sales presentation or as they encounter unique sales situations and customers they are using
 - a. value based selling.
 - b. response selling.
 - c. contingency selling.
 - d. situational selling.
 - e. adaptive selling.

ANS: E REF: pg. 25

36.	Which of the five personal selling approaches is the least flexible and least focused on the buyer's unique needs? a. Stimulus response b. Need satisfaction c. Contingency selling d. Mental states e. Problem solving
	ANS: A REF: pg. 25
37.	Which of the following personal selling approaches focuses most on the buyer's needs and strategic priorities? a. Stimulus response b. Need satisfaction c. Mental states d. Consultative selling e. Problem solving
	ANS: D REF: pg. 25
38.	Which of the five personal selling approaches involves the highest level of adaptive selling? a. Stimulus response b. Need satisfaction c. Consultative selling d. Mental states e. Problem solving
	ANS: C REF: pg. 26
39.	is a method in which salespeople furnish the stimuli (words and actions) to produce the desired response (a customer purchase). a. Stimulus response selling b. Mental states selling c. Need satisfaction selling d. Problem solving selling e. Continued acclamation ANS: A REF: pg. 26
40.	 Which of the following statements pertaining to the stimulus response form of personal selling is true? a. The buyer takes a dominant role in the sales dialogue. b. The stimulus-response sales strategy cannot be used with a canned sales presentation. c. The stimulus-response sales strategy must be conducted in person because of the necessity for visual aids. d. Key selling points can be sequenced in a logical order and likely questions and objections can be addressed before they are voiced by the buyer. e. The stimulus-response sales strategy has the advantage of flexibility. ANS: D REF: pg. 26
41.	is essentially a sequential approach to selling in which the salesperson leads the customer through stages in the buying process. a. Stimulus response selling b. Mental states selling c. Need satisfaction selling

- d. Problem solving selling
- e. Consultancy selling

ANS: B REF: pg. 26

- 42. The mental states approach to personal selling assumes that buyers must be led through four mental states, which occur in this order:
 - a. interest, attention, desire, action.
 - b. attention, desire, interest, action.
 - c. curiosity, interest, conviction, purchase.
 - d. attention, interest, desire, action.
 - e. listening, considering, aspiring, deciding.

ANS: D REF: pg. 26

- 43. All of the following regarding the mental states approach to personal selling are TRUE except
 - a. It is largely a one-way presentation with the salesperson doing most of the talking.
 - b. It requires that salespeople listen carefully to the customer to determine what stage they are in.
 - c. Tailoring of the presentation is based on mental states rather than customer needs.
 - d. It is customer oriented.
 - e. It may be difficult to determine in which stage a customer resides.

ANS: D REF: pg. 26

- 44. All of the following are negative aspects of the mental states approach to personal selling EXCEPT
 - a. It is largely a one-way presentation with the salesperson doing most of the talking.
 - b. It requires that salespeople listen carefully to the customer to determine what stage they are in.
 - c. Tailoring of the presentation is based on mental states rather than customer needs.
 - d. It is not customer oriented.
 - e. It may be difficult to determine in which stage a customer resides.

ANS: B REF: pg. 26

- 45. Need satisfaction personal selling is based on the notion that
 - a. customers need to be told what they want.
 - b. the customer needs to know what products the firm offers.
 - c. salespeople should be friendly because customers need to feel that they are appreciated.
 - d. customers will be motivated to buy to satisfy particular needs.
 - e. customers have only one need at a time and it must be met before the salesperson can interest them in any other product.

ANS: D REF: pg. 27

- 46. All of the following statements accurately reflect factors that pertain to need satisfaction selling except
 - a. this method focuses on the salesperson and how to effectively make a sales presentation.
 - b. the salesperson utilizes questioning, probing tactics to uncover important buyer needs.
 - c. the salesperson waits until relevant needs have been established before discussing product offerings.
 - d. the customer dominates the early portion of the sales interaction.
 - e. it is the salesperson's duty to identify the need to be met and then help the buyer in meeting that need.

ANS: A REF: pg. 27

- 47. The problem-solving view of personal selling is an extension of
 - a. need satisfaction selling.
 - b. stimulus response selling.
 - c. contingency selling.
 - d. mental states selling.
 - e. consultative selling.

ANS: A REF: pg. 27

- 48. Which one of the following is not a stage in the SPIN selling technique?
 - a. Investigate the customer's situation.
 - b. Determine the customer's problem.
 - c. Discuss implications of the problem if it is left unattended.
 - d. Show how the salesperson's offering can solve the problem.
 - e. Follow up the sale with additional product offerings.

ANS: E REF: pg. 28

- 49. _____ is the process of helping customers reach their strategic goals by using the products, services, and expertise of the sales organization.
 - a. Need satisfaction selling
 - b. Stimulus response selling
 - c. Contingency selling
 - d. Mental states selling
 - e. Consultative selling

ANS: E REF: pg. 28

- 50. Which one of the following is not true regarding consultative selling?
 - a. It requires the salesperson be an expert on the customer's business, competitors, and market developments.
 - b. It is appropriate for all sales situations.
 - c. It focuses on achieving strategic goals of customers.
 - d. It often requires that the salesperson be a coordinator, arranging for others in the selling company to play a role in the sales process.
 - e. It requires a commitment to being partners with customers over a long time horizon rather than being focused on making short-term sales.

ANS: B REF: pg. 28

- 51. Salespeople must be
 - a. capable of working in an increasingly complex business environment.
 - b. strong collaborators, both within their organizations and with their customers.
 - c. accountable for their actions and results from an ethical and fiscal responsibility point of view.
 - d. all of the above.
 - e. only answers "a" and "b".

ANS: D REF: pg. 28

- 52. Which of the following are characteristics of sales professionalism?
 - a. It requires a customer orientation.
 - b. It involves the use of truthful, non-manipulative sales strategies.
 - c. It requires that salespeople work from a dynamic, ever-changing knowledge base.
 - d. It focuses on satisfying the long-term needs of customers and the selling firm.

e. All of the above are characteristics of sales professionalism.

ANS: E REF: pg. 29

- 53. To improve collaboration between sales and marketing, the two parties should agree on critical customer issues such as
 - a. identification of customer segments and the related needs.
 - b. buying motives.
 - c. purchasing processes.
 - d. relevant value dimensions with customer segments.
 - e. all of the above.

ANS: E REF: pg. 30

- 54. Recruiting and developing salespeople who understand diverse cultures, languages, and business practices is a salesforce response to which of the following issues?
 - a. Complexity issues
 - b. Adaptability issues
 - c. Collaboration issues
 - d. Commitment issues
 - e. Accountability issues

ANS: A REF: pg. 30

- 55. Increasing customer diversity and globalization is a (an)
 - a. complexity issue.
 - b. adaptability issue.
 - c. collaboration issue.
 - d. commitment issue.
 - e. accountability issue.

ANS: A REF: pg. 30

- 56. Implementing cross-functional programs to foster communication and cooperation is a salesforce response to which of the following issues?
 - a. Complexity issues
 - b. Adaptability issues
 - c. Collaboration issues
 - d. Commitment issues
 - e. Accountability issues

ANS: C REF: pg. 30

- 57. Ensuring that salespeople know the ethical and legal framework for their markets, including cultural and global market variations, is a salesforce response to which of the following issues?
 - a. Complexity issues
 - b. Adaptability issues
 - c. Collaboration issues
 - d. Commitment issues
 - e. Accountability issues

ANS: E REF: pg. 30

- 58. Increasing the efficiency and effectiveness of sales operations is a (an)
 - a. complexity issue.
 - b. accountability issue.

- c. adaptability issue.
- d. collaboration issue.
- e. commitment issue.

ANS: B REF: pg. 30

- 59. Need for more customer-oriented selling is a (an)
 - a. complexity issue.
 - b. adaptability issue.
 - c. collaboration issue.
 - d. commitment issue.
 - e. accountability issue.

ANS: C REF: pg. 31

- 60. Salespeople are typically accountable for all of the following except
 - a. meeting production deadlines.
 - b. generating sales revenue.
 - c. controlling sales costs.
 - d. careful travel planning.
 - e. ethical selling.

ANS: A REF: pg. 32

- 61. All of the following are characteristics of personal selling except
 - a. the pay is good.
 - b. salespeople work independently.
 - c. sales positions offer little job variety.
 - d. selling helps prepare individuals for management positions.
 - e. salespeople get immediate feedback in terms of job performance.

ANS: C REF: pg. 32

TRUE/FALSE

1. Personal selling involves interpersonal communications between buyers and sellers to initiate, develop, and enhance customer relationships.

ANS: T REF: pg. 18

2. In the best sales organizations, salespeople earn the trust of their customers and utilize selling strategies that satisfy customer needs.

ANS: T REF: pg. 18

3. Consumer goods companies typically do not employ professional salespeople.

ANS: F REF: pg. 19

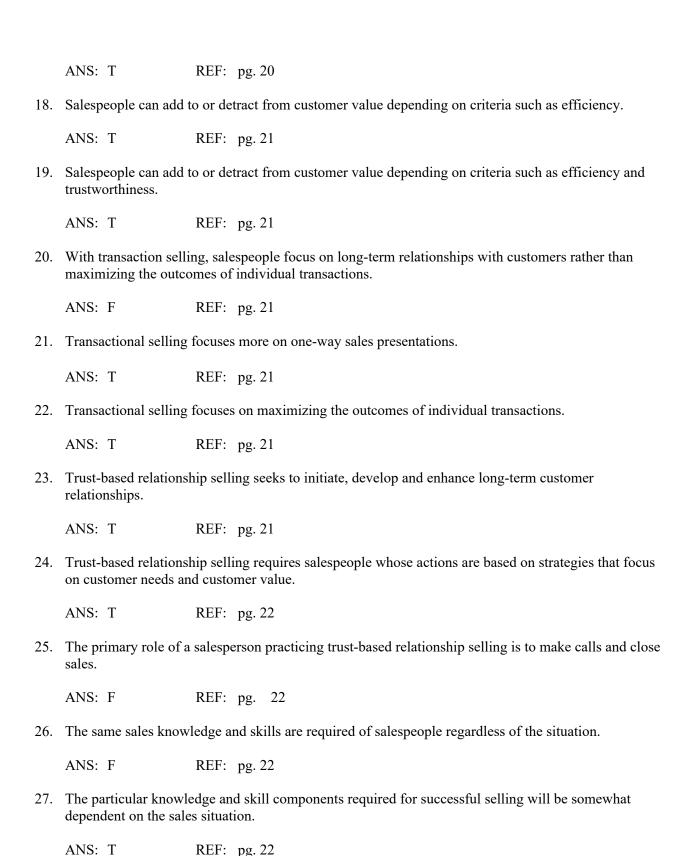

4. Salespeople who focus on gaining new customers are sometimes referred to as farmers.

ANS: F REF: pg.19

5. A pioneer's task involves adding new customers.

	ANS: T RI	EF: pg. 19
6.	Salespeople who focus of	on gaining new customers are sometimes referred to as pioneers.
	ANS: T	EF: pg. 19
7.	Salespeople working wit	th existing customers are referred to as order-getters.
	ANS: F	EF: pg. 19
8.	Order-takers are actively	involved in adding new customers.
	ANS: F	EF: pg. 19
9.	Sales-support personnel	are generally involved in the direct solicitation of purchase orders.
	ANS: F	EF: pg. 19
10.		speople can be viewed as achieving four key roles: management contributor, cations agent and customer value agent.
	ANS: F	EF: pg. 20
11.	Salesperson compensation	on is often tied to the achievement of quotas.
	ANS: T	EF: pg. 20
12.	In their change agent rol	e, salespeople are heavily involved in the diffusion of innovation.
	ANS: T	EF: pg. 20
13.	As product agents, sales value.	people help to create, communicate, deliver and continually increase customer
	ANS: F	EF: pg. 20
14.	As a communications ag	ent, salespeople provide valuable information back to the company.
	ANS: T	EF: pg. 20
15.	As customer value agent decisions as soon as reas	s, salespeople stimulate sales cycles and help customers reach buying sonably possible.
	ANS: F	EF: pg. 20
16.	Customer value is essent for what they give up.	tially defined as the customer's perception of what they receive in exchange
	ANS: T RI	EF: pg. 20

17. As a customer value agent, salespeople help create, communicate, deliver, and continually increase customer value.

28. One purpose of the ADAPT method is to develop an efficient, relevant line of questioning that will help both the salesperson and the buyer find common ground for sales dialogue and sales presentations.

	ANS: T	REF: pg. 23
29.	Sales dialogue involv	wes business conversations that take place exclusively during a sales presentation.
	ANS: F	REF: pg. 23
30.		ves business conversations that take place over time as salespeople attempt to enhance relationships with customers.
	ANS: T	REF: pg. 23
31.	A common sales dial processes.	logue might include assessing the prospective customer's situation and buying
	ANS: T	REF: pg. 23
32.	A common sales dial	ogue might include negotiating an agreement to do business.
	ANS: T	REF: pg. 23
33.	A common sales dial ANS: T	logue might include confirming the prospective customer's strategic priorities. REF: pg. 23
34.	A common sales dial opportunities. ANS: T	logue might include building customer value by providing additional REF: pg. 23
35.	Customers report that ANS: T	t they appreciate salespeople who are creative in responding to customer needs. REF: pg. 24
36.	A customer orientation	on can be demonstrated, in part, by preventing and correcting customer problems.
	ANS: T	REF: pg. 24
37.	Salespeople's trustw professional acquain	orthiness and overall reputation is easily shared within buyers' networks of tances.
	ANS: T	REF: pg. 24
38.		as technology making salespeople's actions more transparent, being trustworthy is ever for sales success.
	ANS: T	REF: pg. 24
39.	Dependability is abo	ut the salesperson being viewed as a good person with whom to do business.
	ANS: F	REF: pg. 24
40.	Candor involves the	salesperson being honest with the customer.

41. Customer compatibility can help build trust.

REF: pg. 24

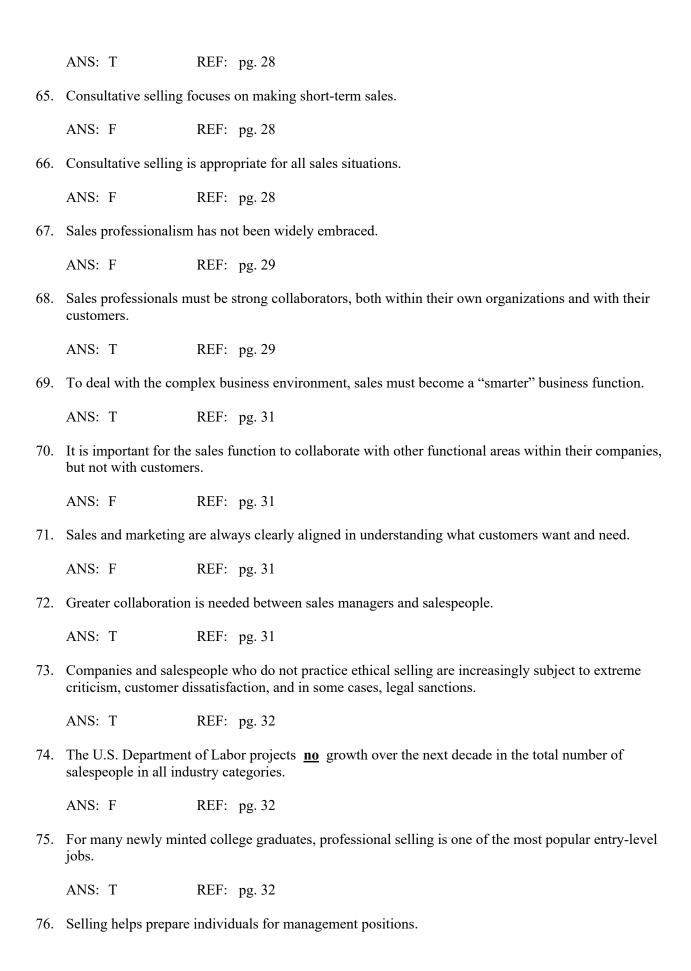

ANS: T

	ANS: T	REF:	pg. 24
42.	Selling strategy invo	lves the	planning of internal messages and interactions with customers.
	ANS: F	REF:	pg. 24
43.	Although written cor	ntracts a	re binding, promises and verbal agreements generally are not.
	ANS: F	REF:	pg. 25
44.	Salespeople should o	only ove	rpromise if it will help them to obtain the sale.
	ANS: F	REF:	pg. 25
45.	Salespeople should o	btain co	ompetitive information by any means possible.
	ANS: F	REF:	pg. 25
46.	Salespeople should ocustomers and emplo		the need for confidentiality with sensitive information provided by
	ANS: T	REF:	pg. 25
47.	1 1		ncounter buyers with different personalities, communications styles, and lling is an important concept.
	ANS: T	REF:	pg. 25
48.	In stimulus response to match those "cues		salespeople listen for "cues" from the buyer and adjust their presentation
	ANS: F	REF:	pg. 25
49.	Stimulus response se strategic priorities.	elling is	the most flexible and most focused on the buyer's unique needs and
	ANS: F	REF:	pg. 25
50.	_	_	essentially a sequential approach to selling in which the salesperson leads in the buying process.
	ANS: F	REF:	pg. 25
51.	Stimulus response se	elling me	ethods can be an efficient sales approach.
	ANS: T	REF:	pg. 26

52. Stimulus response selling is most effective in situations involving important purchase decisions and when time is not critical.

ANS: F REF: pg. 26

53.	Professional buyers l	like stimulus response selling.
	ANS: F	REF: pg. 26
54	Mental states selling	is largely a two-way interaction between salesperson and customer.
	ANS: F	REF: pg. 26
55.	Careful listening is rethe buyer is in at a gi	equired when using the mental states selling approach to determine which stage iven point in time.
	ANS: T	REF: pg. 27
56.	A problem with the recarefully when using	mental states approach to selling is that it forces salespeople to listen very this approach.
	ANS: F	REF: pg. 27
57.	If you were a salespe you would attempt to	erson using the mental states approach and your customer was in the action state, o close the deal.
	ANS: T	REF: pg. 27
58.		e the need satisfaction selling approach as they feel that their point of view and s are being addressed.
	ANS: T	REF: pg. 27
59.		eed satisfaction selling approach tends to increase the defensiveness of some e salesperson rapidly moves to the persuasive part of the sales message.
	ANS: F	REF: pg. 27
60.	Problem solving sell	ing has been popularized by the commercial success of SPIN selling.
	ANS: T	REF: pg. 27
61.	To be effective, the p significance of the ex	problem solving approach typically requires that salespeople clearly illustrate the xisting problem.
	ANS: T	REF: pg. 28
62.	Problem solving sell strategic goals of cus	ing is differentiated from other sales approaches because it focuses on achieving stomers.
	ANS: F	REF: pg. 28
63.	In consultative sellin	g, salespeople only need to be experts on the customer's business.
	ANS: F	REF: pg. 28
64.		often requires that the salesperson be a coordinator, arranging for others in the slay a role in the sales process.

ANS: T REF: pg. 32

77. For people who aspire to be entrepreneurs, selling experience can be indispensable.

ANS: T REF: pg. 32

78. Personal selling careers offer little in terms of job variety.

ANS: F REF: pg. 32

79. Salespeople get immediate feedback on every sales call.

ANS: T REF: pg. 32